

ANZELA Annual General Meeting 2022
IJLE Editor's Report

The production of Volume 24 (2021) was delayed on numerous fronts, however it is now ready to distribute. Three articles, plus a book review, had already been pre-published during the year, with two new ones making up the final volume.

One article has been received for vol 25, and is nearly approved for pre-publication. We will need more contributions, so hopefully some conference speakers will consider submitting a manuscript.

I propose that the ANZELA Board should call for suitably qualified persons to fill the role of General Editor. I am happy to remain involved and assist with logistics etc. In addition, the Editorial Board is in need of checking/updating. Prof Ian Ramsay contact us to resign from the Board after finishing his academic role.

The process for online publication is still to be conclusively settled. Negotiations stalled with Informit (which includes databases such as AGIS - Attorney-General's Information Service) for a hybrid-model of open-access after an embargo period; it seemed that they were unsure whether their system could accommodate such an arrangement). I will re-start these discussions. I will also be investigating the use of DOI numbers for online publication of volume 25.

A reminder that the email address that should be used for the IJLE is:
